

their position was hopeless. Here they were met by J. B. Studley, a member of the company, who was able to make his escape. It is stated that Miss Claxton caught Mr. Murdoch by the wrist and urged him to escape and save his life, but he said no, that he wanted to go up to his dressing-room and vicinity of the stage and at the side of the main auditorium toward Flood's alley, with the purpose of discovering the bodies of Murdoch and Burroughs, the two missing actors. In removing the falling timbers of one of the dressing-rooms, near the alley, was no confusion, and ample time was given to enable the friends to make thorough examinations of the clothing and ornaments found upon the remains, so that a large number were identified. Many persons brought pieces of the garments of their

The sister stood near it, crying and giving vent to such exclamations as, "Poor Abe! Oh! if mother can only stand this blow!"

The body of one young man was discovered by

DESOLATE HOMES.
A TRIBUNE reporter learned yesterday morning that three members of a family living on the third when they found themselves safe, and who rendered valuable assistance in removing the wounded to their homes and to the hospitals. It was the general conviction of those who had been in the bulle-

From the fact that the fire originated on the stage, it might have been thought that the loss of life who was able to make his escape. It is stated that Miss Claxton caught Mr. Murdoch by the wrist and urged him to escape and save his life, but he said no, that he wanted to go up to his dressing-room and tibule, at the end nearest the stairway, had given torium toward Flood's-alley, with the purpose of discovering the bodies of Marloeh and Burroughs, the two missing actors. In removing the falling timbers of one of the dressing-rooms, near the alley, spector George A. Waddy, who was on duty at the theater yesterday, said to a reporter: "We began enable the friends to make thorough examinations of the clothing and ornaments found upon the remains, so that a large number were identified. Many persons brought pieces of the garments of their

the only different features.

The body of one young man was discovered by was fanned by the wind, or whether the fire originated in some other way, he could not state. The

DESOLATE HOMES.
A TRIBUNE reporter learned yesterday morning that three members of a family living on the third

ajured, that so many over whom the crowd valuable assistance in removing ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~homes~~ ^{homes} ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~to~~ ^{to} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~hospitals.~~ ^{hospitals. It was the gen-} eral conviction of those who had been in the build-